

Every week we make something new out of old gold for our customers. It is extremely cost effective as the final value of the item is normally much more than the labour costs. What we make you will be solid gold (or platinum) and should last a lifetime!

Things to think about:

- With yellow gold we can mix any carat gold and the final carat will be whatever the average is.
- White gold can sometimes cause us problems especially if it is from overseas but we will always try our best and let you know before we make anything if we think it isn't good enough quality.
- Very occasionally the finish isn't mirror perfect due to impurities in your metal (like solder), however we can laser them out if necessary.
- The best items to use are rings, charms and pendants. Chains can be used but every link will have solder in it which could affect the finish of the new piece.
- If you only have yellow gold but want a white finish we can rhodium or pallmic plate the item. Pallmic plating should last a good few years.
- We can also re-use platinum as long as the new design isn't too complicated.
- If you have a lot of gold we can sell any leftovers as scrap and off-set the value against the labour costs.

We can make all sorts, including:

Bangles

Pendants

Rings

Earrings
